VERDE

Quisiera que el verde que tiñe tu mirada saciara mis ansias innatas de ti y el anhelo de correr mis dedos en tu cabello que matiza este ocaso de cielo carmín

Por eso abraza conmigo esta noche el color de lo eterno Pinta las sombras del mundo con el fuego de nuestras manos sembrándonos el éxtasis sobre la piel

Violeta es la luz de un sol en cenit que nunca llega en vigilia hostil del paso apurado de los nómadas del alba

Pero el brío imparable de la primavera siempre irrumpe en tu tierra devastando el hielo con el espectro de la ilusión y con las flores que brindan consuelo a este errante amor

Por eso abraza conmigo esta noche
el color de lo eterno
con el fuego de nuestras manos
sembrándonos el éxtasis
sobre la piel

I wish that the green that dyes your gaze would satiate my innate longing for you and the yearning to run my fingers through your hair that colors this sunset of crimson skies

Thus embrace with me tonight the color of the eternal Paint the shadows of the world with the fire of our hands sowing extasis
upon our skin

Violet is the light of a sun at its zenith that never arrives in hostile vigil of the hurried steps of the nomads of dawn

But the unstoppable vigor of spring always bursts into your land devastating the ice with the spectrum of illusion and with the flowers that offer comfort to this errant love

with the fire of our hands
sowing extasis
